Hello:

Fellow Harbordites!

I hope all is well and that everyone had a chance to enjoy the fantastic summer & fall weather that 2016 has brought our way! As I write this, I witness our first snowfall and see the most perfect snowflake fall on my window.

As proud contributing members of the Harbord Club, we want to help you stay connected to the past as we move into the future. With this said, may I present to you the next edition of the Harbordite.

As one of Toronto's oldest high schools, Harbord C.I. has a lot to show for it. The Harbord Club Directors have teamed up with both the current staff and students to make Harbord C.I.'s 125 anniversary a milestone event!! We are in the process of organizing the school open-house with an array of activities happening. Our students and staff will be setting up decade rooms, putting on a fashion show and musical and drama performances of the decades past just to name a few.

I am personally ecstatic about this event. Whenever I am in the company of other Harbordites, I find myself talking about the plans that have been in the works for some time now with great excitement. The Saturday evening Gala is all set and we are awaiting receipt of your registration. If you are ever in the neighbourhood, look for a beautiful banner on the front of the school announcing our events!

To everyone who has had any connection with Harbord C.I., we hope to make this a memorable occasion. To our former staff and alumni, we hope to reconnect you with your wonderful high school & old friends!

You should all be excited to attend our festivities and I hope that most of you are in the midst of preparing both the Gala registration forms and your cheques and sending them out to us as you don’t want to miss out on this event!! We ask that you RSVP soon rather than later to our Gala evening on the 29th of April as we are expecting an overwhelming number of attendees. As space is limited, and table selection will be on a first registration and paid basis, we highly suggest purchasing your tickets early to avoid disappointment. Please note that we have included the Registration form in this issue.

Those on Facebook probably already know of a fabulous group on there. About seven years ago, I decided to start a group on Facebook dedicated to anyone who had ever graduated, worked at or attended Harbord even for a short time. I am proud to report that this group, "Harbord C.I. Grads/Alumni" has over 1000 members! We, as a committee, are committed to spreading the word about our celebratory event through the powers of technology & social media and ask that you help us spread the word too.

In the last little while, we have had many alumni come by the school for a visit, some even to donate items to be placed in our in-school Museum. If you would like to come by or donate to our repository, send us an email and we can make arrangements.

It is quite remarkable how many things are currently displayed in the Harbord Archives that conjure up memories of days past. The Museum itself contains 15 glass front cabinets, four storage cabinets, a wall panel and a special wall alcove dedicated to the 1992 time capsule. Our ever-growing archival collection includes valuable records of facts, occurrences, anecdotes, biographies & books along with treasured photos, trophies and artifacts. The Harbord Museum continues to be a showroom for generations of Harbord students, past, present and future.

According to The Happy Ghosts Of Harbord, a publication that traces the history of the school from its opening in 1892 until its centennial in 1992, the first tenth anniversary reunion was held in January of 1902. The first and second major anniversaries occurred in the midst of the two Great Wars; her 25th in 1917 and her 50th in 1942, both before I was even born!

Her 75th was celebrated in 1967 and I have been told it was a grand occasion that included alumni representing all past decades spanning 1892 to the late 1960's. Wow!

The next big event on record occurred during my student days at Harbord C.I. and I chose to assist as a student volunteer at her 90th anniversary in June of 1981. I knew then and there that I wanted to stay involved with this great school.

In 1997, I proudly became a member of the HCI staff.

and will continue to educate Harbordites as long as I can. Some years later, I only thought it fit to join the Harbord Club Directorate as my passion for Harbord had grown significantly.

A few years after, both Ben Lee (class of '79) and I took on the title of Co-Editors of our beloved Harbordite newsletter; it is now in its 39th year in circulation and still going strong!

On behalf of the Harbord Club Executive, we thank you for your continued support and welcome you to read this issue of the Harbordite with an air of nostalgia as you reminisce through the good 'ol days at H.C.I.

We are all looking forward to hearing stories and seeing you all at Harbord's 125th Gala!!

Onward Harbord!

Onward Harbord!
On February 23, of this year, the Harbord C.I. community suffered a tremendous loss. Syd Moscoe, Harbord C.I. alumnus (class of '52), passed away unexpectedly.

In memory of Syd Moscoe, a scholarship in his name has been created. If you would like to make a contribution, please write cheque to The Harbord Charitable Foundation and in the Memo line, write for Syd Moscoe Scholarship.
It is Months later and Syd’s presence and guidance are still missed. A few of Harbord’s staff have shared some brief thoughts on Syd.

“Syd was a dear friend, the chair of the Harbord Club (alumni association), a Director of the Harbord Charitable Foundation (Harbord awards and scholarships) and the school’s Museum curator. For years, he worked once a week with our Museum student volunteers maintaining the archives in the club museum and its virtual museum, organizing the incoming submissions for the displays as well as helping organize Remembrance Day observances.

Syd was like my school dad; he looked out for me. We chatted about everything! I am so pleased that he got to know my daughter and granddaughter who would attend our monthly club meetings.

Syd had a passion for his alma mater and I know he was so looking forward to working alongside the rest of the Harbord Club Directors in preparation for Harbord’s upcoming 125th Birthday celebrations. All I can say, is... I hope we make Syd proud and that he knows how I miss him so!”

-Belinda Medeiros-Felix (Harbord Alumna, HCI Staff and Club Director)

“When I think of Syd, the fond memories include seeing him rushing down the main floor hallway with his briefcase in hand and always with a warm smile. No matter how rushed he was, he would always stop to talk to me or anyone who crossed his path in the hallway. He never forgot to ask about my children by name. Syd’s ability to memorize people's names and numerous details was amazing and it is with fond memories that I often think of him as one of Harbord's biggest assets. He will be eternally remembered for his many contributions to Harbord Collegiate and the pride he fostered for our school.

Goodbye our friend..

Alice Freitas
Former Student and current Teacher

"Syd was one of those people who actively create community around themselves. Around the Harbord community, he was a doer of deeds, connector of people and a force who propelled projects forward. To say hi to Syd and ask him what he was up to was often to find yourself shortly thereafter holding something, fetching something, fixing something, building something, arranging something, calling someone, meeting with someone and generally rolling up your sleeves and getting something done (or at least feeling that you should be doing something). His passion for connecting the students with the past of the institution and experiences of former students and providing opportunities for current Harbord students was relentless. He wasn't about the spotlight for himself in his work around the school, he wanted the spotlight to be on the students past and present and in general "It's for Harbord...it's for the community...it's for the students." was his approach in the building and around the Harbord community. His Harbord club, Harbord museum and Remembrance Day work was invaluable to helping this place keep a sense of itself past and present.

...I could add more like his passion for cool artifacts and history and how fun it was to connect around that kind of thing, but unfortunately I gotta run to class!"

Aaron Magney
"I worked with Syd for some 8 years every Wednesday in our Harbord museum. During that time, I found Syd to be a person with many talents. He was a very intelligent man who also knew how to connect people to the tasks that needed to be done. What made Syd special however were his other attributes which are harder to find. Syd was kind. He was honest. Syd had integrity. He worked tirelessly and selflessly to celebrate and preserve Harbord's history. He would always regale students with his stories. Every year Syd would attend our Remembrance Day ceremony which he always had a hand in shaping. At the end of every ceremony, he would always have tears in his eyes. My last Wednesday with Syd was a quiet one. Students had left early and so we just chatted. Syd was like that. He always had time for you. On that last Wednesday he spoke about his family and his wife Lee, about how proud he was of them. Syd was a loving man and he will be missed. We at Harbord were fortunate to have had Syd. I just wish that we could have had him for a bit longer."

Daniel Le Blanc

"Mr. Moscoe and his Museum were a port in a storm. Whenever Mr. Moscoe was working in the Museum I would stop in to have a little chat and see what he was up to. These little visits were a calming and pleasant experience for me after a hectic day. I miss the interesting conversations and his gentle ways very much."

My Mentor
You were not only my mentor,
But you were my friend, my uplifter, my giant

As I stood on your shoulders, you carried me through,
Hesitation, Hopelessness, Confusion, with Strength, Wholeheartedness, Excitement

Your words,
Your wisdom,
Your warmth,
Became a constant, my lived reality

Seven years was not enough,
To be supported by you,
To be cared by you,
To be guided by you,
...To be your mentee.

I will miss you.

"I will always remember Syd Moscoe as a gentleman who very much cared for our school, our school's history and Harbord students. A pleasure to talk to and a pleasure to have known him."

Remembrance Day at Harbord C.I.
by Leah Bekiaris & Nastasia-Simonida Krstic
(Harbord Museum Student Volunteers)

On Friday, November 11th, 2016, the Harbord Museum Club put on its annual Remembrance Day assembly. It was decided that this year’s theme would be to acknowledge acts of bravery that were performed in a subtle, yet still very powerful way during times of war.

Embedded with performances by Harbord’s school band and choir, the assembly consisted of students telling the story of a nurse named Carola Douglas; a graduate of Harbord Collegiate Institute, who was a prime example of women showing quiet acts of courage during difficult times of war.

Assigned to the Canadian hospital ship, the Llandovery Castle, Carola Douglas served as a nurse overseas. When the ship was unexpectedly attacked by a German U-boat, the nursing sisters had to react in a calm and quick manner as they knew there was little hope of survival. Without a cry or complaint, Carola Douglas, in addition to the thirteen other devoted nurses, continued to take care of the patients and reassured all crew-members.

As Douglas’ story was being told by the students at the podium, pauses were taken to indicate the different milestones of her life and to allow various student performances to occur. Examples were as such… a choral by Jean-Sebastien Bach, a medley of Nightfall in Camp, the Last Post arranged by Tom Wade-West, and the classic poem; “In Flanders Fields” written by Lieutenant-Colonel John McCrae.

We aimed to have our two minutes of silence as close as possible to 11:00 AM. Before asking the audience to rise, we were certain to mention that they would be hearing the Last Post after the moment of silence, followed by the Reveil, and ending with either a dismissal or “Flanders Fields” (depending on which group of students was present as we had two assemblies).

Harbord’s Museum Club made sure the Remembrance day assembly captured the essence of strength, bravery and perseverance. The darker themes of war and chaos thrived throughout the telling of Douglas’ story, yet at the same time, there were immense levels of hope, heroism, and kindness.

Douglas’ story helped to educate the students at Harbord about the great people that attended their school; her story showed the audience that quiet acts of valor did exist during the war, especially surrounding women, and that they are just as important as a story from the front lines.

Kelly Gotlieb: Father of Canadian Computing

The following excerpt from the Nov. 3, 2016 Globe and Mail article best describes and honors the late Harbord alumni Kelly Gotlieb, who passed away on Oct 16 this year at the age of 95:

Kelly Gotlieb was the father of Canadian computing

Computing pioneer Kelly Gotlieb was quintessentially Canadian in that he united high technical achievement with a low public profile. Leaders in the field of digital computation, however, have long regarded the University of Toronto professor emeritus, who died on Oct. 16 at the age of 95, as the father of Canadian computer science.

In 1948, just a year after receiving his doctorate, Dr. Gotlieb helped establish the country’s first computation centre, at the University of Toronto, and in 1952, he imported Canada’s earliest digital computer, FERUT, to his new lab. This 800-pound thermionic-tube-filled monster was the second of its kind to be produced by the British firm Ferranti Electric Co. (FERUT is an acronym for ‘FERRanti U of T’).

With FERUT up and running, Dr. Gotlieb collaborated with the University of Saskatchewan to process research data digitally. U of S sent metres of paper tape by Teletype to U of T over analog phone lines, encoding gigabytes of raw data. Dr. Gotlieb’s computation centre fed this into FERUT, which in mere hours had analytical output, also on paper tape, that was then sent back to U of S. The process was lightning-fast compared with previous snail-mail turnaround times of up to four months.

When the university established its Department of Computer Science in 1964 (for graduate students only), Dr. Gotlieb was appointed its first director. By that point, he had already distinguished himself in digital computation, calculating the dynamic stability of designs for the new Avro Arrow fighter plane and modelling the hydrological consequences of various configurations for the St. Lawrence Seaway then being mooted. Dr. Gotlieb's calculations so reassured the U.S. Congress that it reversed its initial opposition to the Seaway, for the first time opening the industrial and agricultural heartland of North America to global seaborne trade.

Over his long career, Dr. Gotlieb co-authored four books and authored or co-authored more than 100 publications in peer-reviewed scientific journals; in 1958, he was a founding member of the Canadian Information Processing Society. He pioneered a computerized reservation system for Trans-Canada Airlines (now Air Canada), paved the way for the world’s first computer-controlled traffic lights (in Toronto), fostered today’s machine-readable postal codes and digitized U of T’s card catalogues so effectively that his system was adopted by the U.S. Library of Congress.

"We were," he once remarked, "responsible for an entire nation’s calculations."

Dr. Gotlieb was a visionary, not only in the technical issues of machine computation, but also in their potential social implications. In the 1960s, he was chosen by U Thant, Secretary-General of the United Nations, to be one of six world experts advising on how computer technology might assist international development. Years later, he served on Canada’s first federal task force on privacy.
When the University of Toronto Department of Computer Science grew to include undergraduate students, Dr. Gotlieb created an undergraduate course, Computers and Society, that he taught for 35 years, lecturing into his ninth decade.

Not surprisingly, Dr. Gotlieb’s wide range of attainments led to many honours. He was named a fellow of the Royal Society of Canada and a member of the Order of Canada (1995), received five honorary doctorates and received both Golden (2003) and Diamond (2013) Queen Elizabeth II Jubilee Medals. In addition came kudos from his professional associates, including the Isaac L. Auerbach medal of the International Federation of Information Processing Societies, in 1994 and, eight years later, the Computer Award of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers. This award was not just given to him; it was renamed in his honour.

Calvin Carl Gotlieb, who was known to his intimates as Kelly, was born in Toronto on March 27, 1921, to Jennie (née Sherman) and Israel Gotlieb. Young Kelly attended Harbord Collegiate Institute and went on to study physics at the University of Toronto, graduating with a BSc in 1942, an MA in 1944, and a PhD in 1947. Two years later, he married Phyllis Fay Bloom and the couple eventually had three children.

Dear Ms. Marsha Giffen

In my graduating year, I am honoured to be the recipient of the Harbord Club Charlie Davidson Award for academic excellence and your funding of the aforementioned award is greatly appreciated.

I am entering my first year as a Life Sciences student at McMaster University and my time at Harbord has prepared me to be successful in my program. During my time at Harbord, I learned valuable skills in and out of the classroom that will help lead me to my ultimate goal of becoming either a researcher in the field of neurology or a doctor. Currently, I have become a member of McMaster Student Union Spark, which pairs undergraduate students with upper years and joined the Canadian Asian Student Society. Life Sciences as a program allows me to maintain flexibility in the path I would like to take my life in, whether that be to pursue research or to go to medical school. My favorite courses so far are psychology and chemistry but I’m sure that throughout my post-secondary school life more will be added.

The students of Harbord have the rare opportunity to be at a school where thoughtful people like yourself, give them the chance to earn awards. This award is an acknowledgement of my efforts at Harbord and it gives me great joy along with motivation to continue to strive for my dreams and aspirations. Thank you again for the award.

Sincerely,

Alex Xue

Dear Harbord Club and Mr. Wilson,

What a feeling! It’s a huge honour to be this year’s recipient of the Hillike Filippa award along with my sister Isabel, and it is with great pride that I write this letter. I decided from the get-go that participating in athletics at school would be a good way to get involved and make friends, and ultimately improve upon my time at Harbord, so I decided to join the soccer, field hockey and ice hockey teams. Looking back at my experience now, I realize that it did so much more. What I really gained from my athletic involvement was confidence—confidence in myself, confidence in having good relationships with coaches and teachers, and confidence in knowing that no matter what the circumstance, a teammate will have your back through it all. It is an absolute privilege to be rewarded for something so close to my heart.

As for my academics, what I can say is that it was no cake walk. I really had to work hard at achieving good grades, and getting the hang of it in high school basically took me three years of practice. Despite my parents’ thoughts on the matter, I’m actually glad my academic success was not immediate; it only gave me room for improvement, and it also taught my smooth grade nine self that I would have to actually buck up in order to succeed. I am greatly humbled that my hard work has been recognized, and I’m glad to be going into my first year of university with a solid foundation.

I am currently attending Concordia University in Montreal. I’m taking Film Studies (yes, just the same as my twin sister Isabel), and am really enjoying myself. Though I am, and will always remain completely loyal to Toronto, I have to say that I’m in love with Montreal. I’m beyond content that I have the chance to spend such an important part of my life in a city so bustling with energy and life. I am very eager to see what my future holds, but I can’t say that I have any big extravagant plans at this point. Ideally, I would finish my degree here at Concordia and travel the world from top to bottom with my best friends.

Lastly, I would like to thank you, Mr. Wilson, for giving me the great opportunity to honour the life of your beloved partner in the best of my ability by creating this award. I understand that Hillike was a very well-rounded athlete, and that she especially excelled in ice skating. It’s so empowering to be able to represent her for the strong, smart, athletic woman that she was. There really aren’t enough female role models out there encouraging girls to be at those things, and though I didn’t know her, I would like to think that Hillike was one of them. I will brag to my children about that! Thank you so much.

Kindest regards,

Alexandra Gillie-Hardy

Dear Harbord Club,

This year I was the recipient of the Harbord Club Hugh Macdonald Award. Your funding for this award is greatly appreciated. Thank you.

Coming from a small elementary school, I was initially very intimidated by the size of Harbord, the amount of students and the amount of work and stress that high school would bring but I can confidently say that selecting Harbord to be my high school was one of the best decisions I have ever made. The sense of community I received from the students, the staff, and the Harbord Club allowed me to quickly fall in love with the school and have room to flourish to become the person I am today. I have truly spent a great four years at Harbord, ones that are filled with memories and experiences that I will continue to cherish as I begin the next chapter of my life in post-secondary. I was fortunate to participate in the LAWS Program during my final three years at Harbord and with the program I received an unimaginable amount of opportunities for personal and professional growth. The program also allowed me to make lasting friendships that I will forever cherish.

I am currently studying in the Life Science Program at the University of Toronto (St. George) and I hope to pursue a double major in Nutritional Sciences and Neuroscience. As I begin this transition into university, the feelings of fear, anxiety, and stress once again arise but this award, along with the many Harbord Club awards I am thankful for having received over the four years of my studies at Harbord has constantly served as a source of motivation and validation of my ability to succeed. I have always been an individual who lacks confidence and have had very low self-esteem for much of my life but I am truly thankful to the members of the Harbord Club who have allowed me to regain my sense of confidence in being able to face the many challenges that will come my way. I am beyond excited to become an alumni of this fantastic school and will forever be a proud Harbordite! Thank you once again Harbord Club.

Sincerely,

Alison Lieu

Willis Zimmerman Award

Dear Harbord Club,

I am writing this letter in great gratitude of having received the Willis Zimmerman Award for academic excellence for my final year here at Harbord Collegiate Institute.

The past four years have been some of the best time of my life. Although sometimes I do miss the first time I walked into the front gate, or the first time I sat down in the cafeteria with who were then total strangers, I realize it’s finally time to move on. Hopefully, one day I will be able to revisit, to pass on my success story, and to inspire the many young people who pass through the classrooms every single day - the way that the teachers at Harbord have done for me.

For now, I still have a lot to learn.

I am now a full-time undergraduate in Honours Computer Science at the University of Waterloo. I am still going strong. I love Computer Science, and the beauty of mathematics as a whole. It is the measure that has lighten up my life. Though every light will eventually flicker away, with every smudged candle come thousands more lit bright by the fire of the late flame.

One day, it might be my turn to go. But before I do, I want to leave something behind for this world. At this point, the future is still uncertain. I have decided to stop worrying, however, and let life guide me where it may. I have been blessed with the knowledge of my passion from a young age, and I will do everything it takes to keep that flame alive.

Thank you very much for a memorable four years. Here’s to many more.

Yours sincerely,

An Le

To the Harbord Club, the Kensington Foundation and Ellen Cole,

I wanted to send a note thanking Harbord Collegiate, the Harbord Club and the Kensington Foundation for the Harbord Club award that I received at the Harbord commencement. I was unable to make commencement due to my exam schedule, however receiving the Harbord Award was truly an honor. The recognition was a great way to close out my high school experience.

My four years at Harbord was very fulfilling and enhanced many life skills which I will need to be successful in the future. During my time at Harbord I was able to play on many sports teams including hockey, tennis, and ultimate frisbee. This allowed me to meet many teammates who remain very close friends today. Athletic highlights include winning the team tennis competition at regionals and going to the city finals with the hockey team. Harbord was also a great experience in regards to education. I found that a very high percentage of students worked very hard as they were focused on pursuing a post-secondary education. Having peers that prioritized studying ensured that I was focused in this area as well. I was part of the LAWS program which I truly enjoyed. This program introduced me to law theory and expanded my learning base beyond the school itself. Visiting the University of Toronto, attending court sessions and meeting lawyers helped me better understand professional life beyond high school. Through the LAWS program, I was able to intern at Ford’s Motor Company this past summer. It was an incredible experience I worked alongside other young professionals and gained invaluable experience working in a business setting. Not only was this a great experience, it now have a strong experience to add to my resume. Harbord was not only a fantastic educational and social experience, I feel that the school has better prepared me for future success.

The academic focus that the teachers of Harbord expect helped me attain strong graduating marks. As a result, I was accepted into a very tough business program at Wilfred Laurier University. I am now completing my second month at Laurier and I am enjoying the experience. Harbord has ensured that I am academically prepared to be successful in this program. I am looking forward to having a successful first year at Laurier so I am able to participate in a co-op program so I can combine education with enhancing my work experience.

Thank you again for recognizing me with the Harbord Club Albert "Clubby" Cole Award. I understand that Mr. Cole was very involved with his high school, and I share his respect and love for Harbord. I am honored to be recognized by the Harbord Club and I look forward to helping other school alumni when I am older.

Yours truly,

Caleb Tostevin
Dear Harbord Club and Kensington Foundation,

I am honored to be the recipient of the Victor Weinberg award. It not only recognizes the hard work I did in high school, but it encourages me to delve further into a rich and involved post-secondary career. I never thought when I joined Bent on Change that anything would come of it, I really joined to have a place I felt welcome. But thinking back and seeing how enriching the experience was and how strong it made me feel as a queer woman, I thought the award from it was the personal gain throughout my four years in the club. I am infinitely grateful for the financial aid from this award, but to be told that I made an impact on the community and changed people's lives by being given something that people worked hard to gather that's what really makes me deeply appreciate this award. I couldn't be more privileged.

While in high school, I was the student rep for the Harbord club, and I wish the best for the club and your plans. The club has always been working so hard to create a strong connection between current students and alumni. In grade 12, I also worked on the Pink day, which I did because I felt so strongly that our school needed to feel inclusive and loving towards the LGBTQ+ community, and though it had undoubtedly already been, I wanted to emphasize that in a big and bold way. The things that Bent On Change accomplished would never have been possible without Greg Smith, and I'd like to highlight this, because had it not been there for our club, none of Pink Day and none of the work that we did for it would have been possible. The loving supportive Harbord community meant so much to me, I could never have imagined going to a better school.

After graduation, I am now going to the University of Guelph, in the Arts and Science program. I have not currently declared my two minors (as my program is structured to have), but right now I plan on doing sociology and chemistry, with an emphasis on environmental science. I feel very passionately about the health of our planet, and this is why I want to work in the environmental field. I want to make a big difference for generations to come by improving the current waste management practices and cleaning up our waters. I chose the Bachelor of Arts and Science because intuitively, there is more than just science when it comes to our environment – it's people who make the waste, and that is why I want to work with people to reduce the negative impacts that we are having on our home, as well as having a clear understanding of the science behind what is doing the harm. I believe that this program, along with my personal commitment to my goals are going to lead me to a bright future.

Again, I cannot properly express how grateful I am for this award.

Thank you,

Cameron McGade-Bouchard

Dear Harbord Club,

This year I was the recipient of the Brian S. McCool Award and the Harbord Club Senior Music Award. Your funding of this award is greatly appreciated. Thank you.

My four years at Harbord have been extremely rewarding. During that time I have participated in many extracurricular activities such as the Student Activity Council, the Music Council, the singing orchestra and the basketball team. These opportunities have taught me skills and provided me with experiences which I hope to use to give back to the school and community. Saying that I thoroughly enjoyed my high school experience would be a huge underestimate. It will always be a highlight in my academic career.

Currently, I am a first year Life Sciences student at the University of Toronto. I hope to finish my undergraduate studies before applying to medical school where I plan to study dermatology.

Everyday I am grateful for the amazing opportunities Harbord has consistently provided for its students. Receiving these awards inspires me to improve myself as an individual and gives me courage to pursue my dreams.

Sincerely,

Chenling Shi
Dear Harbord Club,

Thank you for honouring me with the Victor L. Van Der Hout Award. I am truly proud of the recognition. My four years at Harbord were a great experience and I will carry many great Harbord memories with me for the rest of my life, including the receipt of this award.

Harbord introduced me to great teachers, amazing schoolmates and a variety of extracurricular programs. My experiences playing on the hockey, soccer, ultimate Frisbee and the tennis teams were all incredible. Going to the City Hockey Finals two straight years were highlights of my athletic career with Harbord. The friends I made during this endeavour are relationships that will last a lifetime. Academically, Harbord was very strong. It is fantastic that so many of my peers have moved onto university and college programs. Obviously, Harbord does a great job preparing students for a post-secondary school education. The unique LAWs programs was also a fantastic experience and provided me with a variety of new opportunities. My summer job at Tim Hortons's Head Office was a unique and valuable experience which I obtained as a result of participating in the LAWs program.

I am now an honours business student at Wilfred Laurier University. My Harbord experience has most definitely prepared me for university. My business program encourages much group discussion and team presentations and my LAWs experience truly enhanced my presentation and communication skills. I also feel that I am much better prepared to do well in economics, calculus and accounting due to the teaching support I received at Harbord. I look forward to both visiting and supporting Harbord over the next several years and thank you again for the recognition.

Yours truly,

Dear Harbord Club,

I would like to express my sincere gratitude for the J. Hamilton Adams Award for overall academic excellence and excellence in English. I have always enjoyed reading and writing and have strived for excellence in my writing. I am very pleased to see the fruits of my efforts acknowledged.

Harbord helped develop my academic interests and provided an atmosphere in which those interests could be pursued. I really enjoyed writing for the school newspaper T'gadget, and found my grade 12 English class and my Writer's Craft classes very engaging. I also participated on many sports teams at Harbord, including field hockey, swimming, and softball. I take pride in being a co-founder of Vinyl Club.

I am studying at the University of King's College in Halifax. I'm taking the Foundation Year Programme, in which students learn about the development of Western thought from ancient times up to modern times through reading key texts by authors such as Plato, Dante, Nietzsche, Marx, and De Beauvoir.

I enjoy rigorous academic study and intend to continue educating myself for the foreseeable future. I am not entirely sure what career I am destined for but I would like to do something that involves writing. I intend to try my best to develop my writing skills further throughout my post-secondary education.

Again, thank you very much for the award. It really does mean a lot to me.

Sincerely,

Iloe Ariss

Dear Mr. Wilson and The Harbord Club,

I would like to thank you very much for this tremendous and unexpected honour. From what I have read about her, Hillika Filipula was an amazing person who got the very most out of life, both at Harbord and beyond. Being the recipient of an award named in her honour is both rewarding and challenging, as she obviously set the bar high for her quality of life.

My time at Harbord Collegiate was fantastic. I was in the French Immersion stream (from Senior Kindergarten) and had the great fortune of travelling through those many years with a group of kids, supplemented with new friends I made at Harbord, who will undoubtedly be lifelong friends. Even though we “occasionally” spoke English, the bond we have through that common challenge will remain strong I hope.

At Harbord I was very active in student life. I played on both the soccer and hockey teams, and while we didn’t always have a winning record (hockey especially), we had a great time representing the school. Equally important for me however, was my involvement in several clubs. “Stop the Stigma” focused on mental health awareness, and “She for She”, which was about female empowerment.

My decision to attend Concordia University in Montreal pretty much came down to a couple of things: I wanted to take film studies, and it has one of the best programs. The other consideration was that I wanted to explore life away from home. I looked at schools in other cities, but Concordia offers life in an amazing and sometimes complicated city where I can use my French (if I push myself!), as well as a student population that is perhaps more diverse than even Harbord.

As I move into the next chapter of my life I will always remember my time at Harbord as being really fundamental in my growth. I pushed myself in areas that presented challenges, and built confidence in my ability to succeed when I really applied myself. Again, it is a great honour to be recognized like this and I offer my deepest thanks.

Yours sincerely,

Isabel Gillie-Hardy

Dear Dr. Druick,

I am writing to thank you for awarding me the Alfie Adler Harbord Club Award this year. I am very grateful and honored to be receiving this, and would like to extend my gratitude. This award will continue to motivate me to excel in my academics and involvement at university in the future.

I am currently studying Nursing at McMaster University with the hopes of becoming an operating room nurse or perhaps to continue my studies and become a Nurse Practitioner. I plan on joining many clubs and intramurals throughout my university career, as well as volunteer and give back to the community around me. Once again, I would like to thank you for your kindness and generosity. I hope that in the future I will be able to support and motivate students the same way you do.

Dear Harbord Club,

This year I was the recipient of the Harbord Club Neight Penny Award and the Harbord Club Victor L. Van der Houë Award. I am so appreciative for your funding of this award. Thank you.

As a first year at the University of British Columbia, in the Faculty of Land and Food Systems, I have the opportunity to look back objectively on my time at Harbord Collegiate Institute and I can truly say that it was amazing. At Harbord, I learned so many things, ranging from algebra and chemistry, to the importance of balancing my education with my social life and extracurricular activities. Receiving these awards means a great deal to me, for they may serve as reminders of Harbord, attesting to the large amount of effort and dedication that I poured into my high school career.

Thank you very much for funding these awards.

Dear Dr. Druck and the Harbord Club,

Thank you for the Harbord Club B.H.H. "Bad" Page Award for academic excellence. I am honoured to be receiving this award and grateful for the recognition of my efforts in my last year of high school.

I attended Harbord Collegiate Institute for my entire high school career and each year offered a different experience that was both exciting and insightful. I have learned a great deal during my time at Harbord, not only academically but also through life skills that will stick with me throughout my future; life skills such as perseverance, communication, organization and teamwork. While in Harbord, aside from academics, I have joined teams, such as baseball and tennis, clubs, such as business club, and was part of the LAWS program where I did courtroom experiences and worked at a law firm, all of which allowed me to receive a full experience from my time at Harbord.

Currently, I am studying at the University of Toronto in the Rotman Commerce Program. My experience in the program has been undoubtedly phenomenal, much like my time at Harbord. At this point, I have joined the investment and teams clubs and I am also trying to obtain a leadership position in the Rotman Commerce program. In the future, I hope to specialize in the accounting stream and obtain a CPA designation.

Your recognition for my accomplishments in Harbord are a driving factor for my motivation to continue to strive for better which I am both honoured about and very thankful for.

Thank you!

Sincerely,

Dear Harbord Club,

I wanted to thank you for awarding me the Harbord Club Bob Wilson Award for academic excellence at Harbord’s 2016 commencement. I appreciate your support in my academic success and my future despite not knowing a lot about me.

I am currently attending Brock University in the Bachelor of Business Administration with co-op program in order to pursue a career in business. Despite me being at Brock for only about a month, I have concluded that Harbord Collegiate Institute prepared me for my future rather than the relationship one builds with others or the work ethic one needs to have when being in St. Catharines and having to do four exams in six days. When I was at Harbord, I appreciated the school by attending clubs and sometimes being an executive of clubs, like Business Club, Robotics Club and Debate Club, but as an alumnus I have a far greater appreciation for what Harbord has accomplished as a learning environment, for the administrators to the janitors or the teachers to the groups of students. This love of Harbord has grown and despite me currently being a Brock University Rodgers, I will always be a Harbord Tiger at heart.

Once again thank you for this award, but most of all your support in my academic excellence at Harbord and for believing in me even though you may not know me well. Thank you for awarding me the Harbord Club Bob Wilson Award, this is something I will cherish as a memento of an amazing four years of my life.

Sincerely,

Patrick Nunes

Dear Harbord Club members,

I would like to start this letter by thanking you for not only considering me for this reward but for giving it to me. Winning an award like this reaffirms my belief that hard work pays off. Thank you very much for this, it really is an honour.

I wasn’t at Harbord for very long but I feel like the school really helped to change and mold who I am as a person. My experiences at different events and in clubs helped me become the confident and young woman I am today. Personally, I believe that it has been the Harbord Business club and the friends I made there that has really changed me and helped to set me on the path I am currently on. Without the support of the teacher advisors and the other executive members I don’t believe that I would be attending Trent University for business or that I would be doing so well in my classes.

This year is my first year of University at Trent and I must say it really is a challenge. I have never had to balance so many things at once but my time at Harbord really helped prepare me for this. The teachers and staff at the school really helped to make us students individuals who have the ability to take on the challenges that university poses to first year students and beyond.

Thank you again. Winning an award, especially in business, only helps me to be a little more confident in the choice of both school and future career in Finance that I have chosen. I have always admired my father who works in hedge funds and as I began to learn more about financial markets and Accounting through the classes offered at Harbord I knew that I wanted to follow in my father’s footsteps and get a degree in business Economics and pursue a career in Finance.

This award and all the effort you put into the school means a lot to both former and current students. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Renee Roy
Dear Sir/Madam,

I would like to give my deepest appreciation for being the recipient of the Peter "Bubba" Award. It is an incredible honour and will motivate me to continue working hard in my future studies and interests.

I have had an amazing time at Harbord and tried my best to give back to the school, in return for the unforgettable experiences. I played on the volleyball, wrestling, and rugby teams throughout my time at Harbord, and became a captain of the volleyball and wrestling teams for my senior year. I hope that my efforts in these sports will improve their success in future years. I have also worked very hard in broadening my education in several fields. In grade 12, I took 10 University credits including sciences, math, art, music, and languages. The variety of courses offered at Harbord is one of their most unique attributes, and I hope they continue to offer such amazing opportunities.

I joined student council in grade 10 and was voted the Student Council President on my senior year. I worked hard with the council to hold school events to hopefully give the students long-lasting memories like the ones I have acquired. I learned so much from the group and built close friendships with several of the members.

I am currently a student at the University of Toronto for architecture and I am enjoying the new setting and learning experience. Harbord will forever be a cherished memory, and this award is a wonderful send off. Thank you again for motivating and supporting me on my future endeavors.

Sincerely,

Ryan Cheng
To whom it may concern,

I would like to sincerely thank the Harbord Club for granting me the Stephen Calkins award for academic excellence. This acknowledgement of my academic abilities and success during four memorable years at Harbord has furthermore enhanced my confidence in excelling in the university environment.

It is particularly nice, as well as fitting, that my time at Harbord ends on such a high point. I built some cherished friendships, learned some invaluable information, and had many great memories during my time at Harbord. I have already begun to see the aforementioned awards within themselves, so receiving an award for my academic performance means that much more to me.

I am currently majoring in Political Studies at Trent University, with minors in Sociology and International Development Studies. These subjects have been topics of interest for me throughout high school, and I am really enjoying studying them accordingly. I am also getting involved with my student community, as I currently hold an executive position with the university’s Trent The Children branch as the representative for my college.

I plan to continue to get involved in my student community throughout my next four years at Trent University. Once I have completed my schooling at Trent, I aim to attend law school and become a lawyer within the fields of human, international, or criminal law.

Sincerely,

To Whom It May Concern:

I am humbled and greatly honored to be receiving this award and I want to express my sincere appreciation and gratitude to the Harbord Club and the Kemington Foundation for recognizing me with the Cecil J. Wilkins award. I would especially like to commend my teachers and the entire staff of Harbord Collegiate, who have so generously supported my efforts with their wealth of knowledge, wisdom and above all dedication to teaching. Harbord Collegiate Institute is indeed a better place because of all of their hard work and devotion to the students. This award makes me all the more grateful for my years at Harbord, and magnifies the love and desire for learning that this school has already instilled in my heart. It is an even greater honor to be placed in such distinguished ranks as those of this year’s award recipients as well as the past honourees, all of whom have made important contributions to education our school and our community and all of whom I consider to be fellow students and friends. If you would, please extend my thanks to the donors who made the prizes possible. I hope that someday I will be able to be as generous as they are.

Dear Harbord Club,

This year, I was the recipient of the Harbord Club 120th Anniversary Award. Your funding of this award is greatly appreciated. Thank you.

I feel very fortunate to be receiving this award, and have no doubt that this award will help me to reach my goals as I enter university. During my time at Harbord, I was fortunate enough to concentrate my studies in the sciences and I am now in the Life Sciences program at the University of Toronto, St. George. Over the course of my last year, I was also able to participate in the University of Toronto Biology Competition, where I obtained a score in the top 10%, and the York University Biophysics Contest, where I placed second in the senior category.

I have been an active member of the community, having volunteered at Toronto Western Hospital and Kensington Gardens. At Toronto Western Hospital, I directed patients to various locations around the building as a navigator, and at Kensington Gardens, I played piano for residents. Both these roles have given me the opportunity to develop my interpersonal skills, as well as my musical talents. Piano, in particular, has been one of my biggest passions: this past summer, I passed my ARCT practical exam and am now preparing for the theoretical component.

This award means very much to me and will motivate me to strive for my best, even as I move onto university. Thank you for supporting me and allowing my scholastic and extracurricular pursuits to be recognized at Harbord.

Sincerely,

Choi
